

QUAY MADE STIFF FIGHT

Tried to Force Passage of Statehood Bill.

THE SALARIES OF JUDGES

Bill Passed to Raise Pay of Those Who Near Federal Emeline—Amendment Against Railroad Passes and Phone Franks Defeated

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 22.—Senator Quay made an effort to-day to hold the Senate in continuous session to consider the statehood bill, but failed to hold a quorum and was compelled to adjourn at 6:20 P. M. He secured another ballot, however, to test the sentiment of the Senate, the vote standing 17 to 29 in his favor. The day was spent in consideration of the statehood bill, with the exception of an hour devoted to a speech by Mr. Scott, of West Virginia, on the pension laws.

The feature of the statehood bill under special consideration to-day was the Arizona refunding proposition. It was charged that the territory has sought to repudiate bonds held by Bird S. Coker, late Democratic candidate for Governor of New York State. Mr. Foraker explained that the bonds were originally issued by Pima county, and were declared fraudulent by the United States Supreme Court.

Afterward he said there had been legislation by Congress making the debt valid as against the territory as a whole, and that afterwards the court had held the bonds to be binding. Mr. Foraker said that the proceeds arising from the sale of the bonds had been pocketed by "a lot of thieves and scoundrels."

Mr. Lodge said that the history of the bonds would not be considered creditable to any community, regardless of whether they were held by Mr. Coker or any one else, and he was pleased that the question had been brought up, "because," he added, "it throws a strong light upon the character of the people affected."

In the House.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 22.—The House devoted the day to bills reported from the Judiciary Committee, passing about twenty. One was to cure the defect in the Wilson act, passed by the original package decision of the Supreme Court by making intoxicating liquors imported into States subject to the jurisdiction of such States. The bill is designed to prevent evasion of the local law under the original package decision in prohibition States. The other bill is the Senate bill to increase the salaries of Federal judges. It raises the salary of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to $13,000, the Associate Justices to $12,500, Circuit Judges to $7,000, District Judges to $6,000, Associate Justices to $6,000 and the Justices of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to $5,000.

The House voted down an amendment offered by Mr. Randall, of Texas, to prohibit Federal judges from accepting free transportation from railroads or telegraph or telephone franks.

A bill was passed to fix the time for holding the trial in the Western District of Virginia.

The House adjourned until to-morrow.

TO HAVE BAZAAR FOR THE HOME

One to Be Held in March and the Aid of the Friends of the Home for Confederate Women is Solicited.

The Home for Needy Confederate Women, established October 15, 1900, is a living monument to the women of the Confederacy, a shelter, which loving and tender friends provide for the Confederate women left penniless and friendless in her advanced age. The cry of these women comes pleadingly to us from every quarter, the last sad remnant of the noble women who bore the heat and burden of the dark and stormy days of the Southern Confederacy, who now struggle with poverty, ill health and old age.

These women are the sacred legacies left by our dead heroes, and they cry not for a "bounty," but for bread. Our applications are now over three hundred, and we are endeavoring to raise means to enlarge the work and provide for them. To effect this aim we hold a bazaar in March, hoping all residents of the city to erect new and more commodious building. We will most gratefully appreciate any assistance from the public who may kindly give.

Please send all donations care Mrs. A. J. Pyle, Fifth Street; Miss Curtis Lee, president; Mrs. A. J. Montague, first vice-president; Mrs. Ruby Bodeker, second vice-president; Mrs. A. J. Pyle, treasurer; Mrs. Alice Reddy, secretary.

THOMAS GALLAHER MAKING BIG FIGHT

Trying to Defeat the Anglo-American Tobacco Alliance According to Advices.

A hand-bill just received in this city from England contains the unusually interesting news that Mr. Thomas Gallaher, of Belfast, Ireland, is standing in the way of the Imperial Tobacco Company and the American Tobacco Company.

Mr. Gallaher is exceedingly well known here. He has a remarkable plant in Richmond and in other places in the country, and he makes periodical visits to this side of the world. Moreover, the success of his plans in England are of direct interest to the city. He has already announced his intention of invading the American field and building a factory in Richmond. His attitude in Great Britain toward the amalgamated forces is the first step.

The circular received here contains an article from the Belfast Evening Telegraph, printed in Ireland about two weeks ago. This article, which describes the situation in detail, says in part:

"Public interest in the tobacco war is becoming intensified by the announcements as to the programme of the 'Gallaher' line. Hitherto the amalgamation in the tobacco trade has not produced the results which its promoters anticipated and hoped. They have been badly met, and all efforts to crush Messrs. Gallaher, Limited, the well known Belfast manufacturers, have so far failed. Irish and cross-channel consumers and retailers have been keenly alive to their own interests and fully recognize the necessity of supporting Mr. Gallaher in the fight to maintain alive and vigorous a firm independent of companies and a competitor against them. The trust has failed to injure or prevent the continuous growth of Messrs. Gallaher's business. The Anglo-American alliance to complete their monopoly, by which, if once established, they would in a very short time recoup themselves by an increase in prices for the expense to which they have been put in carrying on their present costly propaganda. The retailers would be powerless if such a position eventuated, because no other source of supply would then be available; that is the danger against which the retailers in this country have to guard, and having been forewarned, they should be forearmed. From the press extracts given below it is apparent that Mr. Gallaher is the one who is 'in the path,' and is standing in the way of the Anglo-American trust capturing the trade for a 'bounty' in Ireland. He is working a splendid and characteristically plucky fight, and so long as the home trade stands by him in the present loyal manner the 'white flag' of surrender to the monopolists will never be exhibited."

Then follow several extracts from other papers, setting forth the methods of the amalgamated forces. The article concludes as follows: "With respect to the statement that 'no arrangement with Mr. Gallaher' has been discussed, and that the cut will be complete if such a position eventuates, it may at once be stated emphatically that no arrangement whatever has ever been suggested by Mr. Gallaher, and that he himself is distinctly hostile to anything of the sort. The paragraph in that respect is misleading. Mr. Gallaher has chosen his attitude after careful consideration, and so far as he is concerned the last word has been spoken."

A Marriage in Louisa.

On December 23, 1902, in the presence of many friends, in attestation of their high esteem, Miss H. Clay Bowles and Mr. John B. Perkins were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. Edgar A. Bowles, near Jackson, Va. The attendants were: Best man, Mr. Edgar A. Bowles, with Miss Adeline Walton; Master of Ceremonies, Mr. Perkins, with Miss Mary T. Perkins; Master of Ceremonies, Mr. Perkins, with Miss Catherine Zenobia Perkins.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, sweetly rendered, they ascended the altar, where, by the Rev. Z. Parker Richardson, of Louisa, were pronounced the words which made them man and wife.

The bride was neatly gowned in brown broadcloth, while the groom was equally well attired in a fine fitting suit of black. The bride is the youngest of the family of the late Richard C. Bowles, of Jackson, Va., and the groom is and has long been a popular attaché of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, with headquarters at Hinton, Va.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NEAR LAKESIDE

Effort Likely to Be Made to Secure a Site in That Locality Soon.

It is within the range of probability that an effort will be made within the early future to secure on the Glinter estate, near Lakeside, a site for the proposed new Woman's College, to be erected here by the Baptists of the State.

The matter of pushing the removal of the college has lain dormant for some little time, while a special committee has been at work casting about for a likely site. Now, however, the question is in the open again, particularly in view of the fact that the semi-annual meeting of the Board of Trustees will be held within the next two weeks or so. The date has not yet been finally set, but upon this meeting much depends. The president of the college declares that something will have to be done.

Several sites have been before the committee and a number of attractive offers have been received. One of these proposed sites is on the property of Dr. J. B. Patterson on Grove Road, beyond the Belt Line Railroad. More recently the Glinter estate has come into consideration, and there are said to be several who are strongly in favor of it.

Dr. JAMES NELSON FAYOR, president of the college, is much disposed to lend his influence to the Glinter proposition. Speaking of the matter yesterday morning he declared that while several were making eyes at the Patterson place, he personally favored the other. "There is the ideal site," he said. "The water and sewerage facilities are complete. The location there, and immediately near by if we couldn't get there, is beautiful. Fine artesian well water is abundant. I hope we shall be able to do something in this direction."

Concerning the meeting of the trustees Dr. Nelson said something would have to be done. He thought some definite plans would be formulated and that probably arrangements for a campaign for funds would be made.

DESERTER ARRESTED.

Got Tired of the Navy After Serving Three Weeks.

Detective Gibson yesterday morning arrested a young man giving the name of George Perry as a deserter from the receiving ship Franklin at Portsmouth. The young man was on Seventeenth Street at the time. He did not deny that he had deserted, but he claimed the detective's suspicion.

"Oh, I got tired being in the navy," he said.

"How long?" asked Mr. Gibson.

"Enlisted on January 9th."

"You haven't had time to get used to it yet, so you'll have to go back."

The young man came from St. Louis. He will probably be carried back to Norfolk to-day.

Railroad Earnings.

Below are the estimated earnings of the Southern Railway system for the third week in January, 1908: Southern Railway Company, excluding St. Louis-Louisville lines, this year, $73,057; last year, $70,302; increase, $2,755; Southern Railway Company, St. Louis-Louisville lines, this year, $14,014; last year, $14,104; increase, $100.

The following is a comparative statement of gross earnings of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad for the third week of January: 1903, $11,694.27; 1902, $9,679.56; increase, $2,014.71. For the three weeks of January, 1903, $35,608.75; 1902, $29,475.42; increase, $6,133.33.

Phelps and Pelligrini Before Police Court on Another Charge.

William R. Phelps and Matthew Pelligrini, charged with conducting a gambling house or poker joint at No. 618 East Broad Street, were bailed in the Police Court yesterday morning for their appearance on to-morrow.

The two men were charged with maintaining an ill-governed house. Complaint was made by T. W. Terry, a saloon keeper of No. 408 Franklin Street. He said he was asked to go into the house, where he lost $25 in poker and put up his watch. He then made the complaint.

The two men are well known sporting characters. They were arrested last summer as a result of the general raids, and in company with others were placed under bonds for twelve months.

Should the case go against them, the bonds under which they were placed will be forfeited, and the $300 will have to be paid by the bondsmen.

When the case was called yesterday, the defense asked for a continuance on the grounds that their counsel was out of the city.

The accused maintain that they are members of a chartered club, and that the rooms of that club are located at No. 618 East Broad Street. They will endeavor to show that nothing that does not transpire at any well ordered club happened in their rooms, and Mr. Terry is mistaken.

Mr. Terry formerly kept a bar on North Fifth Street. Upon application last time he was refused on the protest of a number of people in the neighborhood, who declared that he was a disorderly one. Then he went to the place at No. 618 East Broad Street.

Some interesting developments are expected when the case comes on to-morrow.

Walnut Grove Church.

The Sunbeam Society of Walnut Grove Church did not let the cold snap keep them from their places Sunday morning. This meeting is the special time for gathering the Christmas offerings. When the collection was counted it amounted to $40.

The society will use this for Mrs. Ernest Jackson's expense to Brazil as a missionary.

This society, which is composed principally of children and young people, will do much toward the work of the church of which Dr. C. H. Ryland is pastor.

Suits Are Brought.

In the Law and Equity Court yesterday afternoon Cabell and Custer and B. H. English, representing Herman J. Clark, filed notice of suit for $1,000 against the old Dominion Iron and Nail Works. The same attorneys also filed notice of suit against the same company for $1,500 for W. B. Clark, an infant, through J. C. Clark, his next friend.

The cases will be tried at the next term of the court.

Annual Banquet.

The annual meeting and banquet of the Past Masters' Association will be held at the Masonic Temple on to-morrow night at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Neale Ill.

Mr. James T. Neale is very sick at his residence, No. 142 Floyd Avenue.
